

Please do not let banks or other businesses call me out of the blue -- even if they have an established relationship. It's a gross intrusion of my privacy. If I want their advice, products, or services, I'll contact them.